

Riverside Nature Center Weekly Fauna Census 7/22/2011

Really low species count. Sometimes I wonder If I'm on auto-pilot and not concentrating on listening or looking for birds as we missed Carolina Chickadee, Black-crested Titmouse (sometimes missed), Eastern Phoebe, and low numbers on Northern Cardinal. Maybe the Carolina Wrens are masking all the other bird sounds?

One nice find was a Prairie Ringed-neck Snake that has been seen before. We had great views, but it didn't want it picture taken.
